

CORRCHOICE

PACKAGING SUCCESS TOGETHER™

April 11, 2022

To whom it may concern:

I am writing today on behalf of my colleague Catherine Schenone. Throughout the past two years, Catherine has provided her skill and acumen to the Greif/CorrChoice Team in Mason, Michigan as an engineering intern from Michigan State University.

During her tenure at Greif/CorrChoice, Catherine has driven infrastructure projects for our business, including designing/building formal documentation schematics for our fire suppression systems and supporting safety initiatives through process engineering efforts.

Catherine has provided evidence of her desire and creativity to pursue continuous improvement philosophies while applying both simplistic and complex approaches to capturing marginal gains. In addition to her technical aptitude, her methods and perspective are welcomed by our teams through her engaging personality and care.

As a 33-year veteran of our great industry, I can assure you that we need to collectively encourage and support engineering talent to enter our industry with hopes that they choose to dedicate their career to our sustainable industry. Further, the need for increased levels of women engineers in our business is paramount. It is my intention to court Catherine to permanently join the Greif Team after she earns her engineering degree at Michigan State University.

With gratitude,

Matthew P. Barnes
